

Linda McMahon: Secretary of Education

Though I agree with Mr. Mahoney (“Let’s give McMahon a chance to move us forward”) that the bones of transgender athletes give them an advantage over “biological” females, I have to wonder how he’d feel if he were stranded on the International Space Station and the president sent the Good Humor man to rescue him. If he questions whether Cardona is a “qualified, dedicated educator,” how is it that he is willing to entrust our children’s education to a layperson whose credentials consist of personal wealth and loyalty to a politician? Given such disrespect of educators, it is small wonder that so few young people are willing to become teachers.

Gene Burshuliak, retired teacher

geneburshuliak.com